Jimmy as I know him was quite the jokester. I marveled at his memory for long funny songs and poems. He loved making people laugh and entertained my staff and waiting room every time he came to my office. He was full of joy even when he was in pain and wheel chair bound. My last visit was a few months ago at his room at the medilodge. I enjoyed stories from his past as we ate Burger King whoppers. He was joyful that day.I will miss you Jimmy. God Bless. Uncle Jim worked for my dad many times throughout the years as a mason. Many cups of coffee in our kitchen at breakfast time. My fondest memory was a birthday dinner of mine (Dec 4,) and his(Dec 2). He came in dressed in his military uniform, home on leave or after his duty was over. He looked so handsome! It was the Korean war he was in, I believe. I was about 5 yrs old and he brought me a 45 record "Cindy oh Cindy"for my birthday present. I played the lines off that record. It was about a guy off to war and his girl. Off to see a better world now. RIP Uncle Jim. Sincerest sympathy to all his family.NieceCindy Saunders (sister Cecilia's daughter)
