Paul and I worked together at Chryslers for about 30 years. We shared a ride when we lived in East China. He was always fun to be around and was an excellent electrician. He had his ways and for the most part unhurried especially when it was his turn to drive. I remember on one trip home Paul was in the fast lane going the minimum speed on I-94. I was reading and started to hear cars passing us very fast and beeping of horns. I looked up from my book and asked Paul how fast we were going and he replied "Fast enough". Just then a little yellow car past us on the right and the driver, a young lady came about half way out of the drivers window and stuck her tongue out at us. Paul laughed and so did I as he pulled over into the far right lane. He was a happy guy and cared for the family with all his heart. Friends were included as well. Rest in peace my old friend.
